The 'Rumour Mill' in Stirling!

Sometimes the rumour mill grinds up the truth and spits out something altogether different, but sometimes the Rumour Mill gets it right. The Rumour Mill in this story is the name for the latest Economic Development Update for the Township of Stirling-Rawdon.

This newsletter will be released quarterly providing key economic updates including action plan items, project updates, new business welcomes, property information, seasonal highlights and upcoming events.

"The newsletter will be your source of information regarding development within the community," says Elisha Maguire, Economic Development Officer for Stirling-Rawdon. "Everything from highlighting new businesses to events and news will be included in the newsletter. Online is the easiest way to seek information; however we know it is important to keep the newsletter distributed throughout the community which is exactly what we plan on doing each season!"

The need for a newsletter and source for providing information was identified through the Economic Development survey that was completed earlier this year by the Economic Development Committee. The newsletter will be available online, as well as distributed throughout the community including the Municipal Office, Recreation Centre, Library, Bank of Montreal, restaurants and the Creekside Centre.

"The committee is excited to be creating a portal for information and looks forward to receiving feedback from visitors and residents of the community in relation to the information released. This is a great opportunity for residents to connect with the Economic Development Committee and assist in moving forward in growth and development for Stirling-Rawdon."
